REAT INTEREST IN THE ENDURANCE RACE

ticipants Will Stop Over Night in Gainesville At End of First Day's Journey.

MPA, Nov. 13.—Drafts of maps been made of the official route followed by the various automo- which will take part in the Tam- Tampa via Jacksonville automo- endurance contest. They are in the hands of the engraver and in a few days will be ready for rinter and then the book of rules, ining the map, etc., will be print- d sent to those who have enter- r shown a desire to enter cars e contest for The Times cup and prizes which the alert Tampa Au- obile Club has offered for the cars h finish with the best scores in r respective classes.

e work of getting out this book ules is no small job and it falls the willing shoulders of Presi- T. Ed. Bryan and Secretary B. on Reed of the automobile club. is not all they will have to do, r. The getting off of a big mail y day between noon and the date he race, the appointment of in- tors, checkers-in, judges, etc., is a part of the big game being d in Florida for the first time. etary Reed has many inquiries nswer each day—some in person, y by mail—for there is wide- d interest and enthusiasm over endurance contest.

Significance of the Maps.

e first map shows the entire over which the contest will be Starting from The Times office e morning of the 23rd, the cars make the round trip, Tampa to a, via Jacksonville, by the even- of the 27th. The full route will in these towns: Plant City, rhills colony, Greer, Dade City, y, Brooksville, Inverness, Dunnel- Ocala, Micanopy, Gainesville, ie, Highland, Jacksonville, St. ustine, Ormond, Daytona, DeLand, ge City, Enterprise, Osteen, San- d, Orlando, Kissimmee, Loughman, es City, Winter Haven, Bartow, eland, Plant City, Tampa. By this ill be noted that Plant City alone the distinction of being on both outgoing and the returning routes. e routes embrace many more s than are shown on the map, e shown being, of course, the prin- l places.

e counties through which the e will pass are Hillsborough, Hernando, Citrus, on the West Marion, Alachua and Clay, ch are on the backbone of the pen- la and are really neither of the nor the East Coast; and Duval, the outgoing trip. On the return, al, St. Johns, Volusia, on the East Coast; Orange, Osceola and Polk in the middle, and Hillsborough. Thirteen counties in all. The distance to be covered approximates 550 miles.

The Runs By Days.

The other maps show the runs by days. The first day's run will be Tampa to Gainesville, via Plant City, Zephyrhills colony, Greer, Dade City, Trilby, Brooksville, Inverness, Dunnellon, Ocala, Micanopy, to Gainesville. The autoists will check off at the hotels and swap stories of hard luck or good results, as the case may be. On the second day the run will be to St. Augustine, taking in Starke, Highand, Jacksonville, to St. Augustine. The night will be spent in the Ancient City, and on the third day the honk machines will breeze through the East Coast counties, crossing the St. Johns and coming on back from the border counties to Kissimmee, taking in Ormond, Daytona, DeLand, Orange City, Enterprise, Osteen, Sanford, Orlando, to Kissimmee. The last leg of the trip will be from Kissimmee to Tampa, via Loughman, Haines City, Winter Haven, Bartow, Lakeland, Plant City, to Tampa, finishing the contest where it began—at The Times office.

Four Days on the Road.

Four days will be spent on the route. It was at first intended to complete the run on the 26th, but it was later decided a better plan to make the distance for each day shorter, and four days were allotted—three nights to be spent as follows: At Gainesville, St. Augustine, Kissimmee.

Details of the Route.

In the rule book which will contain the rules for the contest and the five maps, will also be other data, such as the outline of each day's run, which is to be further marked by the confetti car—the big E. M. F. "30" which laid out the route as official pathfinder.

The rule book will be a very complete affair. The rules will be a duplicate of those which governed the great Glidden tour, the Journal-Herald New York to Atlanta tour and every other contest to test out the stamina (if the word may be used as relating to automobiles and their ability to stand up to all kinds of going) of cars. They are the official rules of the American Automobile Association, the governing national body with which the Tampa Automobile Club is affiliated and of which it is an auxiliary.

Ready for Entries.

Secretary Reed has entry blanks ready now and is sending them out. He is ready to furnish all necessary information. It is the desire of the automobile club and The Times that every section of the State enter one or more cars, and it is expected that every make in popular favor in Florida will be represented.

A Fair Test of Merit.

As a test of the powers of endurance of a car under all conditions, there can be nothing fairer than a road endurance contest. Each car is entered in its class and is penalized according to the rules for any and for each repair found to be necessary during the contest—the cars incurring no penalties, or those incurring the fewest points of penalization being the winners in the respective classes.

The Prizes.

The main prize will, of course, be The Times cup for touring cars. The other prizes are the Tribune Automobile Club trophy for runabouts and the Tampa Automobile Club trophy for miniature tonneau cars.

The Interest is General.

From all parts of the State have come letters assuring the greatest interest. The successful carrying out of this endurance contest will be more than a mere prize-winning affair, more than a mere demonstration of the merits of any particular make or makes of cars—it is the greatest incentive for good roads that Florida has ever had. More than that, the establishment of official routes between Tampa and Jacksonville, embracing, as this dual route does, a round trip which takes in the most interesting sections of Florida, will serve as an attraction to thousands of tourists to fetch their machines to Florida and go through the State and see sections of it that they would not otherwise ever see.

Secretary B. Marion Reed last night received a letter from a number of citizens of Seabreeze asking that the official route be so changed as to take in that locality. They promise to make all necessary improvements on the roads throughout that section.

ROAD OFFICIALS TO KEEP OPEN HOUSE

ON ACCOUNT OF MEETING OF GOOD ROADS CONGRESS.

Practical Demonstration to Be Given of Value of Good Roads to Counties.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—The office of Public Roads in this city will keep open house during the week of December 6-11th, thus enabling all who visit the city in connection with the Southern Commercial Congress and the National Rivers and Harbors Congress to come in contact with some of the most skilled road engineers in the country. Mr. Logan Waller Page, director of the office of Public Roads, has requested Mr. J. E. Pennypacker, Chief of Road Management, to give an illustrated lecture before the Southern Commercial Congress. In addition to the lecture the Exhibit Hall of Congress will contain enlarged photographs of bad roads and good from various Southern States; and photographs showing the before and after of some roads that have been improved. In addition there will be models of different types of road construction. There will be also several films of moving pictures shown during the lecture illustrating the process of road-making in motion and also illustrating the effect of automobiles on the road bed. The Southern Commercial Congress will print and distribute in Washington the latest information regarding road progress of the South, so as to encourage effort in every county of the South and also produce the conviction that road improvement pays the county that undertakes it. Over 2,500 invitations have been mailed to county commissioners throughout the South. The first county in all the South to pay the way of an official to this practical good roads exposition is Woodward county, Oklahoma.

BAYONETS SWEEP THE STREETS OF CAIRO

Show of Armed Military Forces Stops Revelry of Rioting in the Illinois City.

CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 13.—With Arthur Alexander, the last of the persons arrested in connection with the murder of Miss Annie Pelley, safely out of town, and the Fourth regiment of the Illinois National Guard on the streets and about the jail last night, the mob spirit that kept Cairo ablaze with excitement for four days was quelled. No crowds were allowed to gather at any place yesterday, and every known danger point was occupied by troops. Bayonets held sway where 24 hours before the rope, the torch and the pistol had been in evidence.

Alexander, implicated in the murder of Miss Pelley by the dying statement of "Froggy" James, one of the victims of the mob, was sent to an unannounced point north of Cairo. He was escorted from the jail to a special train on the Illinois Central Railroad by seven companies of militia, two of which guarded the negro on the train during the trip.

There were jeers for the militia from the small crowd that watched the departure.

Bayonets Sweep Streets.

Two sets of fours were in advance of the prisoner, who was handcuffed and flanked by deputy sheriffs, and two sets of fours followed. Three companies of bayonets cleared the street in advance of the escort and a like number followed that augmented at every cross street of the half mile march to the train.

The display of force was greater than the Carolites had anticipated, and while there were murmurs all along the line of march there was no effort to break the line.

Sheriff Davis, who made strenuous and repeated ecorts for two days to save James from the lynching, said that the disposition of Alexander had been left to State officers. He began investigation of the riots of Thursday night.

Coroner's verdicts yesterday were rendered on the two men lynched, and in each case the jury found that "he came to his death at the hands of persons unknown to us."

Mayor Peacefully Slept.

Sheriff Davis, in an extended interview, told of recognizing several members of the mob that took James from his care Thursday night. No steps to bring those implicated in the uprising to trial have been made yet.

Mayor George Parsons said he was asleep and heard no shot or other sound to indicate that the city of which he is chief executive was in the grasp of a lawless horde.

While county officers privately declare that the evidence against "Froggy" James was purely circumstantial, they were inclined to lay stress on the evidences of his guilt. The only ground for holding Alexander was declared to be the dying confession of James.

In an effort to clear up the murder of Miss Pelley, the police searched the houses frequented by James and Alexander for the missing money, handbag and bracelet of the murdered girl. They found nothing.

Blame for the riot is generally ascribed to an inadequate police force, and the fact that many men accused of felonies have been acquitted despite seemingly strong evidence against them.

Kills Large Snake.

Edward Kennard, mail carrier on Route No. 2, which runs south in the Rocky Point section, brought to Gainesville Saturday afternoon one of the largest moccasin snakes ever seen here. The snake measured five and a half feet in length, while it was sixteen inches around the largest part of its body. It was of the "copper head" variety and must have been an old timer, judging from its size. The reptile was killed at the foot of Colclough's hill near the small pond.

Deputy Sheriff Padgett Shoots a Negro Burglar

HIGHLAND, Nov. 13.—The stores of J. H. Carter and H. C. Wimberly were broken into yesterday morning about 2 o'clock and a quantity of jewelry, razors, smoking tobacco and cigarette papers were stolen. The postoffice is located in Mr. Wimberly's store, and every piece of mail matter was misplaced, the cash drawer rifled, but only a small amount of change was missing. So far as can be ascertained by Postmaster Wimberly no stamps were taken.

The robbers first broke into the railroad section car house and took a crowbar and bush cutter. With these tools they were enabled to prize open doors and windows of the stores.

Early yesterday morning Deputy Sheriff Padgett started on the trail of the robbers, and about 10 o'clock he arrived at Maxwell, a station about seven miles above here, where he discovered a negro sitting on the depot platform. He recognized the negro as the same one who loitered around Highland late Thursday afternoon and who attempted to secret himself in the waiting room here. At sight of the deputy he broke to run, and after repeated commands to halt and several shots being fired to frighten him, he was captured, not, however, until a shot from the deputy's pistol brought him to a stop. The ball entered the back just below the left kidney.

In the negro's possession was found the jewelry, razors, tobacco and a portion of the money, all of which he attempted to throw away. He even tore out one of his coat pockets in his anxiety to throw the goods away.

He gave his name as J. W. Williams, claiming Pensacola as his home, and that his mother, Rena Fields, lives at Quincy. The negro doubtless had a confederate, as the tracks around the stores plainly indicated.

Dr. G. W. Brown of Lawtey dressed Williams' wound and found it necessary to have him sent to a hospital in Jacksonville for an X-ray examination and further treatment.

ABOUT THREE HUNDRED BALES BEING HELD FOR 30 CENTS.

Parties Amply Able to Hold Indefinitely and May Even Get Better Prices.

There is now only about three hundred bales of cotton left in the Alachua section, so the reporter was informed by C. A. Williams, one of the best posted cotton men in the county, on Thursday.

He stated to The Sun man that the parties interested in this amount are amply able to hold their cotton and that unless they received the price they had asked of thirty cents they would continue to hold and it is well known that this cotton is among the very best that has been gathered in that section during the entire season.

Mr. Williams said that the gins were still running and would average about one day of each week, but he could scarcely tell where even this small amount was coming from, for it looked as if the fields had long since been cleaned of every bowl, and he knew that all of the larger plantations were now being used as pastures.

Outside of the holdings of Messrs. Stevens, Haynesworth, McFadden and Ellis there is practically no cotton to be had and no inquiries are being received for the staple.

The local price there, however, is good, remaining firm at 27 cents, and occasionally a bale or so is found at this figure.

KENNARD'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Horse Was Killed and He Escaped With Slight Bruises.

G. T. Kennard, the liveryman of Newberry, had a narrow escape from death one night recently while attempting to go from Archer to his home.

He became blocked on the roadway by a large number of trees having been felled, and he unhitched his horse from the buggy and attempted to ride him home. He had traveled only a short distance, however, when he and the animal both went into a natural well.

The result of the fall was almost instant death for the animal, but fortunately for the rider he escaped with only a few slight bruises.

LOSES VALUABLE DOG.

"Maude," Owned by J. A. Goodwin, Dies From Unknown Cause.

"Maude," the valuable pointer belonging to J. A. Goodwin, died Thursday morning and this familiar canine will now be sadly missed about the passenger station of the Coast Line.

Besides being a general favorite with all of the children and affording a great amount of amusement for the passengers while waiting for delayed trains, Maude was considered one of the best dogs in this section for field work, and her owner deeply feels the loss.

The dog had been ailing for the past few days and everything known was done for her, Mr. Goodwin calling in a number of dog experts, but she succumbed on Thursday. In view of her past services Mr. Goodwin had a coffin made and gave the dog a nice burial.

And best of all they guarantee it to cure you or money back. Read this:

"I have been a great sufferer for 14 years; everything I ate gave me heartburns. I have never been able to get anything that would give me any relief until a friend of mine insisted on my taking Mi-o-na. I took a 50-cent box and I believe I am entirely well."—F. M. Bryant, Newnan, Ga., June 5th.

Mi-o-na is not a nostrum; it is the prescription of a celebrated physician who is a specialist in stomach diseases.

These little Mi-o-na tablets are surely wonder workers. They absolutely cure indigestion whether acute or chronic.

They stop belching, gas in stomach, and heaviness, in a few minutes. Distress after eating vanishes as if by magic when one or two little Mi-o-na tablets are swallowed.

IN HONOR OF MISS STORK.

Two "Showers" in Honor Prior to Her Marriage.

ALACHUA, Nov. 11.—One of the most brilliant social events of the season was the handkerchief shower given by Mrs. James A. Williams at her pretty home on East Church street Friday afternoon complimentary to Miss Mamie Stork, who was to wed Mr. James Fletcher Morrison.

The house was tastefully decorated, pot plants, ferns, palms and white chrysanthemums being effectively arranged, green and white predominating.

Receiving with Mrs. Williams were Misses Lillie Morrison, Minnie Stork, Mrs. John Powell, and the bride-elect in a becoming gown of shepherd plaid silk made in Dame Fashions' latest style. As the guests arrived each was served to delicious punch by Mesdames Cloud and LeRoy.

While the honoree was sitting under a pretty wedding bell made of dainty white flowers, and just after Cupid (Master Claude McCallum) had finished using his bow and arrow he slowly pulled the ribbons attached to the bell, and down came a shower, yes, almost a storm of beautiful handkerchiefs with an appropriate message for the bride.

Mrs. Williams served an excellent salad course with coffee and saltines in her dining-room, which was a picture of loveliness, made so by the artistic decorations and the light of soft white candles arranged in the form of the letter "S" on a large mirror in the center of the dining table.

On the same table, the bride's cake containing the lucky favors was arranged in pretty English style. The ring, the thimble, the coin and toothpicks were attached to ribbons and drawn by the young ladies present. Each guest was asked to write a prophecy to be fulfilled at the end of so many years, as they thought best. These prophecies were quite amusing when read aloud. Mrs. Godfrey won the prize for writing the best prophecy.

Tiny bags of rice were given as souvenirs.

The guests voted Mrs. Williams a charming hostess.

Another Shower at Haynesworth.

Haynesworth, Nov. 11.—The attractive country home of Mr. J. E. Haynesworth was the scene of a very happy occasion Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Lelia Pearce was at home to a number of guests invited to meet Miss Mamie Stork, who was to marry Mr. Fletcher Morrison. Everybody brought a dainty bit of linen and a good wish for the bride. These were packed in a miniature trunk decked with red hearts, and Master Richard Haynesworth came hauling it in to the bride, who sat beneath a bower of ferns and orange blossoms. Many were the exclamations and jests of good cheer, followed by a request from the hostess for each guest to draw a likeness of the bride on small cardboard hearts, on one side of which was already pasted a real photograph of her. The prize, a framed picture of the bride, fell to Mrs. John Powell—a dainty momento of a charming fete. Those present were Mrs. John Powell, Mrs. C. A. Stephens, Mrs. R. A. Turner, Mrs. Furman Smith, Mrs. H. N. LeRoy, Mrs. J. L. Cloud, Mrs. W. T. Rives, Mrs. S. J. Ellis, Mrs. H. J. McCallum, Mrs. F. B. Godfrey, Mrs. J. W. Collins, Mrs. W. H. Sealey, Mrs. J. A. Williams, Misses Annie Kirkland, Mamie Stork, Minnie Stork, Maggie Olmstead and Idella McKinney.

The casualties from the careless use of firearms since the hunting season opened in the different States have been enormous. Scores of lives have already been sacrificed, and many a family now mourns the death of some dear one. You cannot be too careful with your gun while engaged in the pastime of hunting.

We hope it may prove true, the "charge" that much of the good roads agitation nowadays is due to the automobile manufacturers, who are actuated by no higher motives than the selfish desire to sell automobiles. If the automobile makers are spending any considerable effort or money in good roads publicity it is a fine thing, no matter whether their motive be interest or philanthropy.

The standing reward of fifty dollars for the conviction of persons charged with the illicit selling of whiskey is nothing more nor less than a premium on perjury. No man in the State is more opposed to the illicit sale of whiskey than the editor of The Sun, but we are opposed to this premium on perjury. The county commissioners should refuse to pay these rewards when claim is made therefor, and let this unconstitutional law be set aside in this circuit, as it was in Judge Bullock's circuit.

The money which Governor Gilchrist is to distribute to soldiers of the Spanish-American war will go only to those who were in Colonel Lovell's regiment, the First Florida, and only to those whose names have been furnished by the U. S. Government. Less than half the amount found to be due has yet been received by Governor Gilchrist. The smallest amount to be paid to any man is thirty-two cents, the largest amount $23.36. The average amount due enlisted men is about five dollars. The distribution will be made as soon as all the money is received. There will necessarily be considerable delay, but the Governor will dispose of the matter as soon as possible.

THE CENSUS AND POLITICAL POWER CENTERS.

Having in mind the next census figures The Washington Post foresees a shifting of political power, and it thus speculates interestingly on the possibilities:

"Some of the politicians in the East are beginning to grow nervous over the forthcoming census of the population. On it will be based for the succeeding ten years the representation in the House of Representatives and in the electoral college. None of the North Atlantic States has increased in population very largely, and some of the smaller States have actually fallen off slightly in population, while the far West and Southwest have grown. The population in the whole country, it is confidently expected, will show such an increase that representation based on the present ratio would give the House an increase of between 75 and 100 members. If the ratio is increased so as to keep the membership at the present number, all the States north of the Ohio and east of Missouri, with the possible exception of Illinois, will probably lose. In the South, Georgia, Alabama and Texas, it is believed, will gain in membership, as will the States in the Northwest. Of course, all gains in the South will benefit the Democrats, while those in the Northwest are not so sure for the Republicans.

"This is what is giving the politicians in the East a session of unrest. Cutting off representation in such Republican States as Ohio, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts, and that quasi-Republican State, Indiana, and giving it to Alabama, Texas, Georgia, Missouri, and the uncertain Northwestern States, might mean a reversal of conditions in Congress and the election of a Democratic President three years hence. An addition of 15 or 20 to the vote of the South in the electoral college and a reduction of the same number in the sure Republican States would make the next race an exceedingly interesting one. Especially will this be the case if the great Northwest continues in its present unsatisfied condition, as it will probably make considerable gains in its electoral representation. Viewed from any standpoint, it is enough to give the Republicans serious thought. Political power is rapidly slipping from the East to the West, and when the West learns the lesson of keeping good men in Congress it will exert the influence over legislation now exerted by the East."

The South, no less than the West, needs to have a realizing sense of the importance of keeping good men in Congress. The East has held the whip hand in matters of legislation at Washington, because it has deserved to. That section has taken these positions in the House and Senate seriously, and whenever a man has measured up to their high standards they have left him permanently on guard, to grow with the position. Most members from the South are compelled, in self-defense, to spend most of their means and energies in the never-ending struggle to keep their seats. There are too many districts where there is a sort of unwritten law that there must be a change every two years, to the end that some man may be paid for whatever service he may have rendered the party.

END OF SEABOARD RECEIVERSHIP

Few events in the railway progress of the Southern States are of more interest to that section than the ending of the Seaboard Air Line receivership, says The Wall Street Journal. A system of approximately 3,000 miles in length, including recent additions in the Southeast, thus passes out of the tutelage of the courts into the control of the stockholders, representing capital liabilities of little short of $147,000,000.

The Seaboard receivers took charge of the property when it was in need of rehabilitation and when the old management, under the unfavorable conditions of 1907, had apparently lost its grip. By the creation of a debt of $7,510,000 in receivers' certificates the necessary funds were procured to improve freight receiving facilities, to complete connections and traffic arrangements and in various ways to do what was deemed necessary to increase the earning power of the company.

From all that can be learned at this writing the stewardship of the receivers has been one that reflects credit on them. Receiverships at best are necessary evils. This one came into existence as a preventive of disintegration and for the purpose of giving the property a period of convalescence exempt from the importunities of creditors. But the Seaboard receivers have done more than this. They have rendered constructive services to a property which has always been regarded as having possibilities for investors with the growth of the territory through which it runs. Among such services has been the reduction in the percentage of operating expenses to revenue from 76.36 per cent in 1908 to 69.57 per cent in 1909 without materially impairing the maintenance of equipment, in the same time increasing by 9.9 per cent the outlay on maintenance of way and structures and adding 35.1 per cent to net operating revenue.

From the operating viewpoint, much has been done to knit together the various parts of the Seaboard mileage. In connecting with the new Clinchfield line the road gains 2,000,000 tons of coal freight a year. The old wrangles between the Ryan and the Williams factions seem to have spent their force out of office, and it is to be hoped that in the selection of a new president someone may be found who can build on the basis which the outgoing receivers have laid to make the Seaboard one of the standard railway properties in Southern territory.

MISTAKEN ADVICE.

The Tampa Tribune has always been friendly to Hon. Frank Clark, representative in Congress from the second district.

In Mr. Clark's recent course in Congress, when he threw down the gauntlet of defiance at Mr. Bryan's feet, when he repudiated and renounced the Democratic platform and boldly declared for the policy of protection—The Tribune took his part.

That paper now advises Mr. Clark to calm himself—to cut out the forte and give his constituents more of the pianissimo.

The Tribune has come to the belief that pitchfork politics are no more admired; that adjectives, expletives and epithets no longer catch the popular ear.

The Tribune advises Mr. Clark to adorn himself in the "white robes of peace," and carry outstretched in his hand an olive branch.

To do that, in our judgment, Frank Clark will lose his grip. He would immediately fall into commonplace. He would be no more than a dozen or more other Congressmen.

It is the unusual that attracts. We like to behold the volcano in eruption. We like the Napoleonic method of warfare. To whom friend was no friend if he stood in the way of his ambition—to whom all men were but worms, to be used as stepping stones to success. That's what men like.

Without his pitchfork Tillman had still been an obscure farmer; if Tom Watson had dipped his pen in honey instead of vitrol, he would not have been known today outside of his own county.

Say what you please, do what you please, the majority of men like a spirited personal controversy. The hotter it is, the more ginger that can be put into a campaign, the more the voter enjoys it.

John Temple Graves has a magnificent command of language; without exception he is acknowledged to be a beautiful and eloquent speaker, so why has he not succeeded as a politician? Why? Because his writings and his speeches have the odor and fragrance of the flower garden about them. There is no ginger in his speeches—when he writes he mixes honey, not vitrol, in his ink.

Men are not yet angels. They like a little touch of brutality. They like to see the other fellow "ripped up the back." Why was it such an almost impossible task to elect the saintly General Finley to Congress against Mr. Horatio Bisbee, and such an easy matter to elect Mr. Charles Dougherty?

Feminine sweetness, anything that has the fragrance of flowers, the habiliments of peace, don't seem to go in a political campaign. These things refuse to take root in Democratic soil.

Mr. Frank Clark is forceful in epithets, keen in satire, quick in repartee, knows the force of ginger and is a professional in the use of the "pepper box."

When he gives up those weapons, in our opinion, he gives up that which has given him his reputation, and he will take his place in the ranks of the ordinary.

Frank Clark is too accomplished a politician to take The Tribune's advice.—Ocala Banner.

The county commissioners of Osceola county have subscribed for eight hundred copies of The Kissimmee Valley Gazette, which are being sent out each week to people in the North and West. No better nor cheaper plan of advertising could have been adopted.—Bradentown Journal.

As evidence that the commissioners of Osceola county acted wisely, that county is now receiving more new settlers than any county in the State.

LaFayette county has voted to license the sale of whiskey after one of the most heated campaigns ever waged in this State. It is said that the country was overrun with "blind tigers," and the people decided to give the license system another trial after the county had been dry for several years. DEATH OF MR. J. W. BENNETT.

Funeral Was Held From Residence Saturday Afternoon.

From Sunday's Daily Sun:

Mr. J. W. Bennett died at his home on Friday evening at 10 o'clock, after a painful suffering for the past number of weeks. His first confinement was the result of an accident at the mill of the Eddins Company, but he had scarcely survived this when it was found that he was affected with a more serious and graver trouble, and it was this that caused his death.

As soon as the true situation of the disease was learned the patient was sent to the hospital, where an operation was performed, and while it was successful in every way it was seen that his constitution was not sufficiently strong to survive the strain, and he was removed to his home, where he passed away surrounded by his wife, sister, brother and a host of friends.

He had been a resident of this city for a great many years, coming here from the LaCrosse section, and for a long while was one of the policemen of the city, which position he filled with credit to himself and the city until a few years since, when he engaged in carpenter work.

The funeral services were held from the residence on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the remains laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery, the services being conducted by Rev. F. D.

PRESIDENT TAFT IS BACK IN WASHINGTON

Made 266 Speeches and Traveled Over 13,000 Miles on His Recent Trip.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—After an absence of more than three months, during which he made a 13,000 mile trip through the West and South, President Taft slept last night in the White House.

He left the Capital August 6 last with the cheers of the crowds ringing in his ears. He returned last night to the tune of the same cheers, but he tarried only a moment with the various welcoming parties. His objective point was the White House and Mrs. Taft, and as quickly as he could get away from the brief speeches of welcome he climbed into his big automobile. The chauffeur broke all speed records of the distance on the last leg of the President's record-making journey.

Two hours before the President's train was due the crowds began to fill the union station.

When the train rolled in from Richmond on time at 8:35 o'clock, there was an imposing throng of persons on the platform.

Among the throng were Secretary Carpenter, Col. Crosby, military aide to the President, and Assistant Secretary of War Oliver. The district government was represented in the person of Commissioner West.

When President Taft spoke at the city auditorium in Richmond yesterday afternoon, he made his 266th speech of the long trip, which according to the itinerary consisted of 12,759 miles, but with side trips amounted to more than 13,000.

President Taft declared to members of his party last night that outside of an impatience to be with Mrs. Taft again, he would not mind if the trip should continue two or three weeks longer.

Mr. Taft's stay in Washington will be brief, as he leaves today for Middletown and Hartford, Conn., and in the meantime must deliver an address in Washington today before the Layman's Missionary Society. The President returns to Washington shortly before noon on Saturday and Monday morning will settle down to the routine work of his office. His message to Congress is so well defined in his mind and has been so well outlined in his speeches that it will require but a brief time in dictation.

President Taft said last night that he would not make any of the important diplomatic appointments that are pending until after January 1. He will not fill the vacancy on the supreme court bench until after Congress meets.

RECEIVES SUDDEN STROKE.

J. J. Phillips of South Gainesville in Serious Condition.

J. J. Phillips, who has for several years held the position of superintendent for C. A. Colclough on his farm, happened to a serious misfortune late Friday night, when he received a total stroke of paralysis.

When attacked the patient was at his home near the Baird mill and Dr. Dell, who was summoned as soon as possible, pronounced the case paralysis and the man in a most serious condition. The physician stated that the man has been wholly unconscious since he was stricken and that Saturday a slight improvement was noticeable, but it would be two or three days that he would likely remain in the present semi-conscious state.

Isn't there something which only a want ad. can do for you today?

Does Not Stimulate

Ayer's Sarsaparilla does not stimulate. It does not make you feel better one day, then as bad as ever the next. It is not a strong drink. No reaction after you stop using it. There is not a drop of alcohol in it. You have the steady, even gain that comes from a strong tonic and alterative. We wish you would ask your doctor about this. He knows. Trust him. Do as he says. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

What are Ayer's Pills? Liver Pills. How long have they been sold? Nearly sixty years. Do doctors recommend them? Ask your own doctor and find out.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

(By J. E. Jacobson.)

From Saturday's Daily Sun:

Our football team will leave here Sunday morning for Orlando, where they will play Rollins College on Monday afternoon. We feel confident of success, as our boys have picked up considerably and are in better condition than ever before. The line-up will probably be as follows: Left end, Moody or McCormick; left tackle, Waggner; left guard, McMillan; center, Storter; right guard, Cox; right tackle, Rader; right end, Johnston, quarter-back, Adgerton or Pile; right half, Taylor; full-back, Vidal or Tenny; left-half, Taylor.

Coach Pile went over to Jacksonville Friday to see the Olympic-Stetson game.

The University of Florida offers correspondence courses in agriculture for all white citizens of the State. These courses are designated to meet the needs of the following classes:
1. Teachers and prospective teachers.
2. Farmers and prospective farmers.
3 Farmers' wives, sons and daughters.
4. Others who may be interested.
Pass the good word along.

It is not generally known in the State that the Chamber of Commerce of Pensacola recently subscribed enough money to pay all the expenses of ten farmers of Escambia county in the three months' short course in agriculture at the University of Florida, the expense to include railroad fare, books and board for three scholastic months beginning November 9th. A thorough and practical course has been arranged for these ten representatives of Escambia county. We believe that this course, briefly outlined below, will appeal to a large number of farmers and farmers' boys and that many of them will enter within a short time. A warm welcome awaits all who may desire to take advantage of the course here presented. The term is divided into two divisions of six weeks each. The first six weeks will be devoted to class-room and laboratory; beginning with the principles of agriculture and thoroughly studying horticulture, plant propagation, soils, injurious insects, agricultural chemistry and fertilizers; agricultural engineering, farm machinery and farm motors; interpretation and use of agricultural bulletins. Second six weeks: Class-room and laboratory work; crops and seed judging, horticulture, orchard management, soils, application of fertilizers to special crops; animal industry, field experimenting, agricultural engineering, roads and drainage, and agricultural research. In connection with the regular class work a number of lectures have already been provided for.

Capt. Lynch, Professor of Secondary Education, inaugurated an educational campaign, the object of which is to advocate the election of better trained teachers, longer terms, not less than one high school of senior grade in each county, and the introduction of teaching of home economics, and agriculture. Similar campaigns are being carried on in Virginia, North and South Carolina, and the latest and most important one is in Tennessee.

Dr. Murphree, accompanied by Dr. Blackman, President of Rollins College, visited and made speeches at West Palm Beach, Silver Palm, Dania and Miami, in the interest of the educational campaign, which is meeting with such great approval everywhere.

Prof. Rolfs is in the western part of the State, holding meetings at farmers' institutes, where great interest is shown.

The Press Club had the honor of hearing Dr. Farr, who made an eloquent as well as profitable address on "Journalism."

The University has a fine start this year, the enrollment being an increase of about sixty per cent over that of last year. The increase is mainly in the Sophomore and Freshman classes.

There are about 160 students registered at present, including 30 law students.

The law department is something new this year. Dean Farrah, formerly in charge of the law department of Stetson University, has charge of this department, and is meeting with great success.

The exhibits of the University at the Tri-County Fair, at Pensacola, attracted great attention.

Improving His Home.

J. Runkle is converting his home on East Liberty street into a handsome residence and for the past few weeks carpenters have been busy entirely remodeling the house. All of the changes have about been completed, and it is the intention of the owner to have same painted, when he will have one of the most commodious homes in that section of the city.

Improving His Home.

G. S. Merchant is having his home on East Liberty street greatly improved by the application of paint. When the same has been finished it will present a very neat appearance and add much to this section of lovely homes.

Ocala's public building is now nearing completion. The Banner says that the inside finishing is superb and that the wainscoating of the Congressional Library at Washington, which is said to be as fine as anything in this country, is not superior.

The Hotel Varn at Avon Park will be opened about December 1 under the management of J. M. Balderson, who is proprietor of a summer hotel in the Adirondacks.

GRAND JURY'S FALL TERM PRESENTMENT

Give Justices of Peace Usual Rap---Recommendation As to Road Tax, Etc.

The Grand Jury empanelled for the present term of Circuit Court completed their labors Friday, and at noon handed in the following presentment, which was read in open court by Clerk Wienges:

To the Honorable J. T. Wills, Judge Eighth Judicial Circuit of Florida, in and for the County of Alachua:

We, the Grand Jurors for the Fall Term of the Circuit Court, in and for the Eighth Judicial Circuit, Alachua county, Florida, respectfully submit to your Honor, this our presentment:

Upon entering upon our duties as Grand Jurors we did so with the purpose and determination of performing those duties to the best of our knowledge and ability, and we have diligently inquired into the facts of all cases that have been presented to us, and that have come under our observation, and when in our opinion, judging the evidence produced, warranted in finding a true bill, we did so; and where we found that the evidence did not warrant us in finding a bill, w did not find a true bill.

With the assistance of our able State's Attorney we have succeeded in disposing of all cases that have been presented to us.

We find that through the neglect, or carelessness, some of the justices of the peace of our county have not reported cases that have been tried and bound over by them, and in some instances cases that should have been tried and disposed of by them have been sent up to this Grand Jury for investigation, thereby causing the loss of considerable time, and adding additional expense to the State and county.

Therefore, we recommend to the justices of the peace of our county to dispose of all cases within their jurisdiction; and to bind over only a sufficient number of witnesses as required by law.

We also suggest that the justices of the peace use great care in drawing up and approving bonds for appearance before the Grand Jury and the court.

We respectfully recommend that the Board of County Commissioners have the road law strictly enforced, requiring all who have not paid their road tax to work on the public roads as required by law; the strict enforcement of the law would save this county from six to eight thousand dollars annually.

We have carefully examined the county jail and find it in good sanitary condition, and the prisoners perfectly satisfied with the treatment received at the hands of the sheriff.

And now we wish to thank your Honor, our State's Attorney, clerk of this court, sheriff and other court officials for courtesies shown us and able assistance rendered to us in the performance of our duties as Grand Jurors. Respectfully submitted,

THEODORE HARTRIDGE WILLARD,
Foreman Grand Jury.

Gainesville, Fla., November 12, 1909.

Judge Wills complimented the body upon the business like manner in which they had dispatched matters coming before them and thanked them for their attendance, whereupon Capt. T. H. Willard, foreman, verbally thanked Judge Wills, on behalf of himself and coworkers, for the appreciation shown of their labors.

The grand jury was then discharged and dispersed.

JACOBIE—LEWIS.

Mr. O. M. Jacobie and Miss Elizabeth Lewis were recently married in Tallahassee. Mr. Jacobie is well-known in Gainesville, having at one time been in the employ of the Baird Hardware Company, and if his bride is the lady by the same name that the editor has the pleasure of knowing in Tallahassee he has secured for a helpmete one of the most precious jewels of a town noted for its lovely women. The Sun wishes the newly wedded couple all the happiness imaginable.

When a cold becomes settled in the system, it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best remedy to use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. Sold by all druggists.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT FRIDAY.

W. A. Bryant Suffers Injury While Unloading Government Stone.

From Saturday's Daily Sun:

W. A. Bryant, who is employed with the heavy hauling department of Crawford & Davis, suffered a painful accident late Friday evening by having his right foot crushed by a slipping stone.

He was upon the car in the act of assisting the workmen in unloading the heavy material, when in some manner a large piece of the material slipped out from its holdings and came down with a sudden crash upon the right foot of the unfortunate man.

With the assistance of the tackle the structure was removed and the party taken to his home, where Dr. Hodges was summoned and announced that some of the bones in the foot had been broken, but he had not made a thorough examination at the time he was seen by a reporter.

The stone which fell upon the foot would weigh probably a ton, and it is a wonder that it was not crushed to a jelly. The numerous friends of the young man are thankful that the accident is no worse.

He will be incapacitated for business for several days, but it is not thought that an amputation of the foot will be necessary.

Lame back comes on suddenly and is extremely painful. It is caused by rheumatism of the muscles. Quick relief is afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Sold by all druggists.

EW WINTER TRAINS GO ON NEXT SUNDAY

e new winter train service over Atlantic Coast Line will commence Sunday, and it gives Gainesville poorest local service it has ever ived at the hands of the Coast officials.

cally it is a hard knock to Gaines-, for trains have been taken off were pulling business to the city, the merchants are bound to see effects of the change within a rt while.

hile there are four trains to come two new ones go on, but they run idnight and early morning hours, will consequently prove of little vice to the people throughout this tion, and practically none to the ple who visited here, for the new n will not stop at any of the coun- stations along the line.

he service discontinued, is what nown generally as the Citra train, up to this fall has been running n Citra to Gainesville, arriving at ut 10:30 a. m. and bringing a large mber of people during the week e to trade, but it was recently nged to run from Wilcox, and has en performing a good service for the ple from both ends of the line.

The most important trains, however, are Nos. 9 and 10, known as the Jacksonville-Ocala trains, and travel has been picking up at a good rate ever since the service was inaugurated. It is understood that the kick registered by citizens of Micanopy was the only one placed against the taking off of these trains, but they were successful in getting a special engine and coach which will run between that place and the junction for the purpose of connecting with the trains of the main line.

B. F. Hampton, secretary of the Board of Trade, was seen by The Sun man and he stated that he had long since learned that a "kick" or protest to a railroad company did no good whatever, and that the only action that would give any benefit was information furnished to the Railroad Commission, and he would likely take the matter up with them at once.

Gainesville has enjoyed a nice trade from the southern end of the county ever since the inauguration of the new service, but as the matter now stands we will be deprived of this increase of trade, unless some action is taken at once, for the new time card is effective on next Sunday, when the trains come off.

ouble Lynching In Which Many Women Participate

CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 12.—At 11:15 clock last night a mob, after batter- down a steel cell in the county jail re, took out Henry Salzner, a white an charged with the murder of his fe last August, dragged him up ashington avenue and lynched him.

Five Troops Ordered Out.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Gov. Deneen, ap- aled to by Sheriff Davis, who de- red the mob was storming the jail d volunteers would not assist him, dered five troops of militia to pro- ed at once to Cairo to restore order.

Negro Lynched and Burned.

Cairo, Ill., Nov. 12.—Will James, the egro suspected of being the murder- of Miss Annie Pelley, was killed re last night by a mob.

James was strung up to a public rch, the rope broke and at least 500 ots were poured into his body. He ade a partial confession and impli- ted another negro, Arthur Alexan- r, for whom the mob is now search- g.

James was lynched in the most rominent square of the city and nged to the arch at Eighth and Com- rcial streets. Women present re the first to pull the rope. When broke, the frenzy of the mob was ntrollable and they fired volley er volley into James' body, shoot- g him to pieces.

The mob then dragged the body er the streets for more than a mile Twenty-sixth and Elm streets, in alley, and burned it where the mur- r was committed.

At least 10,000 people saw the lynch- g.

Thousands in the Hunt.

James was found with Sheriff Da- between Karnak, Ill., and Belknap, by the Cairo crowd, who went up yesterday afternoon. The crowd overpowered the officer and took the negro from him. After a conference it was decided to bring the prisoner back to this city and lynch him. Sheriff Davis had been fleeing from the mob for 24 hours with the prisoner. Driven from town to town by menacing crowds, the sheriff had taken to the woods with James, but the persistent search of the summary avengers proved effective at last.

Fully a thousand persons went out to find the negro, and when the pursuers arrived in Cairo with their quarry, they were met by a howling mob of 5,000 others bent on slaying the negro.

They marched James directly to the public arch, sweeping the streets like a flock of sheep might tread a narrow lane. Many women were in the crowd and anxious to help do the work.

Sheriff Davis having been foiled in his attempt to hide the negro, pleaded for the life of the prisoner, without avail. When Cairo was reached, Sheriff Davis was taken in charge by a part of the mob, which rushed the negro rapidly to his funeral pyre.

Mob Covers Sixteen Miles.

The mob that chased the sheriff and the negro was so large that it scoured the entire country from Karnak to Vienna, Ill., 16 miles.

When found by the mob, the negro was handcuffed between two officers and all three were lying on the bank of a creek. They were so weak from hunger, exposure and the futile attempt to elude the mob that they were not able to make much resistance.

Sheriff Davis last night said that he deplored the lynching. He had made every possible resistance in his power, but the crowd was so large that he could do absolutely nothing.

Bold Bandit Compels Farmer To Sign Check

KEWANEE, Ill., Nov. 11.—A masked andit armed with two revolvers and bowie knife yesterday held up and terrorized in their home John Powers, a farmer, living near here, his wife, son, daughter and two hired men. After intimidating them under threat of death from 6 o'clock in the morning until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the robber tied the three men with ropes, forced the woman and girl into the kitchen, where he securely locked them and then compelled Fred Powers, the son, to drive him to Tiskilwa, Ill., to cash a check for $150, which he had made the farmer sign.

The farmer, after a struggle, succeeded in freeing himself from the bonds in which he had been strapped by the bandit and communicated by telephone with neighbors, who hastened to stop payment on the check. The bandit arrived at Tiskilwa at about the same time as the message from Powers' friends reached the bank.

When he was refused the money the robber forced the farmer's son to drive him away and when pursued by farmers, some of them in automobiles, drove into a marshy country and then fled on foot through the woods, where all trace of him was lost.

Two Negroes Killed In Explosion at Palatka

PALATKA, Nov. 10.—As a result of a boiler explosion at the plant of the Palatka Gas Light & Fuel Company about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, two colored men are dead, the plant wrecked and the city is in darkness. The explosion caused the breaking of windows in many buildings, notably, the Presbyterian church, two blocks away. Bricks, pieces of mortar and debris of every description were hurled into the air for blocks around the scene of the catastrophe, but no injury to persons or property has been reported.

The supposition is that the water got low in the boiler and that pumping cold water into it caused it to burst. Another theory advanced is that the feed pump would not work and the two men who endeavored to operate it were powerless to prevent the impending blow-up. Their mangled, distorted and begrimed bodies were found within a few feet of the pump that was the cause of their sudden death.

The boiler itself parted about the middle, tearing like paper. One end struck the earth and tore it up for a distance of fifteen or twenty feet, while the other extremity of the huge cauldron went clear in an opposite direction, demolishing the power house of the electric plant.

The chances are that several months will elapse before repairs can be made, so that electricity can be turned on the city and private circuits, and unless arrangements for steam can be made there will be no gas for motive power or illumination purposes from now on. The financial loss is not positively known, but it will reach far into the thousands.

STORE WAS ENTERED.

August Wenske of East Gainesville Sustains Small Loss.

From Saturday's Daily Sun:

August Wenske, who operates a small grocery store on East Alachua avenue, states that during the early part of Friday night some sneak thief entered his place and took all of the cash from the drawer, amounting to about $5 in small change.

He had closed his door to attend to some duties about the home, and while absent for this purpose the thief entered the place and succeeded in getting the money, but when he attempted to take hold of a sack of flour in some manner he made a noise and this attracted the attention of Mrs. Wenske, who rushed out of her residence in time to get a good look at the party, whom she determined was a negro.

Some of the residences in that section have been entered within the past few days and it would be well for the housekeepers to take notice that sneak thieves are working that part of the city.
